

At the intersection of the Buffalo and White Oak bayous, Houston sits.

At one of the busiest seaports,
you'll find many commercial ships.

From General Houston, the first president of Texas, the city gets its name.

Check out the Texans, Rockets, Astros, or Dash if you want to catch a game.

At RodeoHouston, enjoying livestock, concerts, and barbecue is the goal,
and at NASA's Lyndon B. Johnson Space Center, you can watch mission control.

Past Galveston and Matagorda Bay
on the Gulf of Mexico,
through Port Aransas on to Corpus Christi is where we now will go!